Dear Patrick,

I am writing to thank you once again for the great experience Corporate Adventures provided us with this past February. You did a wonderful job of bringing us the DiSC information. It was presented in such a way, it allowed us to expand our boundaries and helped us to discuss and understand many areas of communication and conflict that had previously been unknown. Management has been pleasantly surprised as to the importance of understanding each persons differences, in order to enhance our professional relationships. We are all encouraged by the efficiencies in such areas as meetings, communication and working through issues.

We look forward to expanding this training to our other locations and working with you on follow-up training to assure we can continue this positive trend.

Thanks again!

Marla L. McIntyre
Human Resource Director
